

Alex

Area Supervisor

Completed a Fire, Emergency & Security Systems apprenticeship in April 2021

Alex joined OpenView in July 2017 as a Fire, Emergency and Security Systems apprentice, completing his apprenticeship with Bradford college. He finished his apprenticeship in April 2021 and has since been promoted to Area Supervisor.

When we asked Alex why he chose to join OpenView through an apprenticeship, he advised, 'I chose the apprenticeship with OpenView after exploring other career routes and never really settling into different trades'.

We asked Alex about the best part of his apprenticeship and he responded, 'The best part was definitely the feeling of accomplishment upon passing the end point assessment and written exam.'

We asked Alex about how his apprenticeship helped prepare him for his current role. He advised, 'It prepared me for my area supervisor role in various ways. The technical ability gained while studying at college helped massively in my role. I would recommend an apprenticeship with OpenView as it is not just an apprenticeship, it's a career with the ability to progress and further your skills within the company.'
